

DARTMOUTH
CLASS OF 1953

NEWSLETTER

News & Events for our Class

Dear Classmates and Families,

Here is our latest newsletter to pass on news of our classmates and their families. These are the difficult times when so many of us are passing on but there is comfort in sharing our stories with one another and to stay in touch with families at their pleasure.

2021 VERSION

Dear Classmates and Families,
News of the class is quite sketchy these days except for the inevitable but still sad news of the loss of another one of the Classy Dartmouth Class of 1953. Fred Whittemore, one of our more prominent mates, left us a few months ago, Tom McCrea, big Tom, turned it in about a month ago, Jack Morris left us recently and there are others for whom we have not yet received the details. The College no longer reports these losses as before when they also provided the obits. Things have changed on our beloved campus.

With such limited news we have introduced this summer what we call Memory Notes which are primarily pictures from the vast collection I have beginning right with our Goss years and including the entire visit and talk from President Eisenhower on our graduation day, a memory embedded in our hearts forever and an inspiration for all we have done as a class for Dartmouth and our beloved America. These are the kinds of items and the newsletters will be included on the Class Website by Mike Halloran, honorary '53, in a new flip-book format and all you have to do is go to the class site and these gems will be in the column left of the main text. Mike has done a super job with this, thanks Mike. We will let the class know when this feature is ready for you to use.

That's all for now. Keep your news coming. I have had sort of a "medical summer" with all fine now and plan to catch up on my love of being your news guy this fall, so keep t those tidbits flowing.

All the best,
Dave
